JAINA Convention 2027

Timeless Values for Our Evolving World

Jai Jinendra!

Dear Friend,

परस्परोपग्रहो जीवानाम्

Parasparopagraho Jivanam.

जीव एक दूसरे के आधार हैं

Souls are the support of one another. Not only humans, but every living being, each dependent on the other, each worthy of care. Acharya Umasvati wrote these words two thousand years ago not as philosophy alone but as a way of seeing the world. It is in that spirit, and with that responsibility, that I write to you today.

The 24th Biennial JAINA Convention, July 2 through 5, 2027 at the Hilton Anatole in Dallas, is more than a gathering. It is a statement that our community, spread across this continent, chooses to come together and celebrate who we are, what we believe, and what we are building for the next generation. Every family that attends, every young Jain who walks those halls, every child who sees our community stand tall in that space. That is worth showing up for.

A Texas Community Ready to Host

The Jain Society of North Texas has served this community for decades from its temple in Irving, and a new temple is now coming up in Frisco. Houston's Jain community is growing, with a new temple of their own taking shape. Austin continues to expand its presence and its reach. What was missing across all three cities was hosting a JAINA Convention together. Now, as one Texas Jain community, we are doing exactly that.

A Committee Built for This Moment

The JAINA Convention 2027 Fundraising Committee brings together committed individuals from across the country who have given their time, their networks, and their word to this campaign. Our goal is to raise $3.5 million over the next 14 months, and we are committed to running this campaign with fairness, transparency, and broad community participation.

Convention fundraising in our community has historically leaned on the same families and the same asks. That has worked, and we are grateful. But we want more families to know the labh of giving, and that means opening the door wider. No donation is too small, and we hope for a very high percentage of North American Jain families to contribute. More of us stepping forward, at every level, is what makes this convention truly ours.

Every contribution will be tracked and acknowledged clearly. Sponsors will know exactly where their labh goes and how funds are used. We are reaching out actively to Jain-led businesses and young Jain professionals, because this convention belongs to every family, whether you are giving for the first time or the twenty-fourth. Sponsorship opportunities begin at $251 with no ceiling, because we want every family to find their place in this, and we welcome those who want to lead it.

Ahimsa in the Country We Call Home

We came to this country carrying our values. This is one way we live them out loud. At registration checkout, we will offer every family the option to add $10 to sponsor 30 vegetarian meals for a person facing hunger through the North Texas Food Bank. We will also offer the option to support jivdaya, the Jain practice of compassion toward all living beings, through a farm animal sanctuary right here in North America, a refuge where rescued animals live out their lives in peace and care. Our meal goal is 50,000. This is a statement about who we are as a community and what we believe about our place in this country. That is ahimsa in action.

Visit jainaconvention.org and take a labh at any level. If you have ideas to make this campaign stronger, write to us at conventionfundraising@jaina.org. Every suggestion will be considered.

Dallas is hosting. Texas is rallying. And across North America, our community is ready to come together. Let us do this together.

Jai Jinendra,
